

September 19, 2018

Negotiations between AdvanSix and members of the union representing workers in the Hopewell North bargaining unit from the company's Hopewell plant continued today, with the two teams further discussing various proposals related to the contract that expires on October 4. They met multiple times throughout the day and agreed to resume discussions tomorrow.

We will post updates to this website.