

September 20, 2018

Negotiations continued today between AdvanSix and the union representing workers in the Hopewell North bargaining unit from the company's Hopewell plant. The teams met throughout the day and into the evening working through their proposals.

Discussions will resume on Friday morning, and we will post any updates to this website.